HORSES

In Style

Laced gloves, high polished boots, tailored outfits, organza hats. Groomed coats, painted dancing hooves, tight plaited manes on arched necks. Patent leather so shiny you can see your face, silver bits glinting in the morning sunlight, reins resting lightly over withers.

The noise of gravel under shod hooves, naughty fox terriers darting past, horse heads raised snorting in anticipation, an echo from impatient strikes of hooves waiting for evening hay, manicured gardens alongside fields of hay, old stable blocks behind grand houses.

Horses are lifestyles.

Country shows with polished ponies, racehorses returning from a morning gallop, a dressage rider in top hat and tails finetuning a pirouette, elegant side saddle ladies in their finery.

The hunt ball, lunch at the polo, fashion at the races, photos in stylish magazines or enjoying high tea whilst reminiscing with horsey friends.

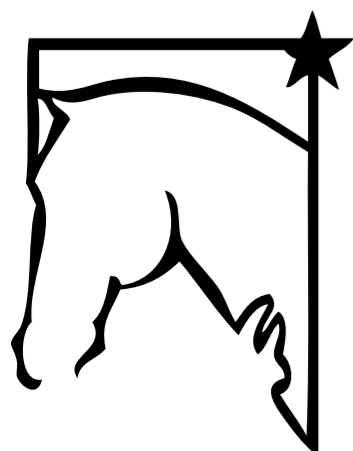

For those of us who love them, horses are the thread that binds our work and play, small and large events, socials scenes and long lasting friendships.
